COLLABORATE

A New Way to Network with AMCP Members Coming Aug. 12

During our “current normal,” we need a meaningful way to connect with our AMCP family. We are excited to introduce AMCP Collaborate, an exclusive online community designed to provide members a platform to engage with each other in discussions impacting managed care pharmacy. AMCP Collaborate features two open forums: 1) AMCP members and 2) student pharmacist members. As an AMCP member, you will automatically be enrolled. Watch for an email with more details.

Action Alert: Tell Congress that Pharmacists can Help Fight COVID-19 and Influenza

Join AMCP in sending a prepared letter to Congress asking them to allow pharmacists to serve patients for the purpose of testing and vaccinating for COVID-19 and influenza under Medicare Part B. Considering the unprecedented challenge to America's health care infrastructure posed by the novel coronavirus, AMCP, working in partnership with the American Pharmacists Association (APhA), believes allowing pharmacists to test for and vaccinate against COVID-19 and influenza will help reduce strain on physicians and hospitals.

AMCP Foundation Summer Interns Take the Summer by Storm

Eight student pharmacists from across the country are wrapping up their virtual summer internship with AbbVie, Genentech, Pfizer, and AMCP Foundation. Coupled with virtual learnings, expert discussions, and more, this year's interns gained a robust understanding of managed care pharmacy. On July 30, we celebrated the brilliant minds of Zach Baldwin, Irene Chung, Aisha Fowler, Devin Gerboth, Tina Gholami, Palna Mehta, Montrell Taylor, and Marin Weiskopf for National Intern Day.
